The Cord

We are connected, My child and I,
By an invisible cord, Not seen by the eye.

It's not like the cord that connects us til birth,
This cord can't be seen by any on earth.

This cord does it's work right from the start,
It binds us together, Attached to my heart.

I know that it's there, Though no one can see,
The invisible cord from my child to me.

The strength of this cord is hard to describe,

It can't be destroyed, It can't be denied.

It's stronger than any cord man could create,

It withstands the test, Can hold any weight.

And though you are gone and not here with me,

The cord is still there, But no one can see.

It pulls at my heart, I am bruised..I am sore,

But this cord is my life line, As never before.

I am thankful that god connects us this way,

A mother and child...Death can't take that away!

This is dedicated to my baby angel who made it to heaven far too soon.

I can't get over you,

Because I carried you for nine long months, and you were there, right under my heart.

I can't get over you,

Because I felt your butterfly flutterings and your tiny taps, to let me know that you were part of me, and my life forever.

I can't get over you,
Because I fell in love with you the very second that I knew you were there, and I knew that we were forever one.

I can't get over you,
Because I heard your first cry as you entered this world,
And because I held your body so close to my heart.

I can't get over you because, I heard your first burp, and kissed your head for the first time.

I can't get over you,
Because I saw your first tear as it fell upon your cheek and because you looked at me with such trusting loving eyes, that made me the center of your world.

I can't get over you, my precious child,

because I saw your first steps and heard your first laugh,

I held you so tightly, and rocked you through the night.

I can't get over you,

Because you trusted me to love and take care of you.

I can't get over you because you were, and still are, my child.

I will never get over you,

Because I am your mother,

And I will love you forever,

I will never get over you!

He Only Took My Hand Mom

Last night while I was sleeping, my son's voice I did hear

I opened my eyes and looked in his room
But Justin didn't appear

He said:

"Mom you've got to listen, you've got to understand
God didn't take me from you, he only took my hand

When I called out in pain that night, he instantly reached down, took my hand and pulled me gently to his side, lifted me up and saved me from all the misery and pain inside.
My body hurt so badly, I could never be the same

My search is really over now
I've found happiness within, all the answers to my empty dreams and all that might have been

I love and miss you soooo very much, I'll always be near by My body's gone forever
But my spirit will never die

So you must go on now and live one day at a time Until we meet again

Just understand:

God didn't take me from you, he only took my hand!!!!

My heart is full of memories,
With pride I speak your name.
Though life goes on without you
It will never be the same.

Behind my smile there's many a tear
For you I loved so very dear.
There's an empty place no-one can fill,
I miss you now and always will.

I Hear Each Tear Fall On Her Face

My Mom doesn't know I'm watching her but I'm watching her just the same.
And I hear each tear fall on her face
at the very mention of my name.

She says it sounds like music to her ears and can be heard over a crowd.
Oh, I hear each tear fall on her face when my name is said aloud.

I watch her stumble through each day as she wishes the day would end.
And I hear each tear fall on her face
as she talks of me to her friends.

But there are few who truly understand
Oh this I've heard her proclaim.
And I hear each tear fall on her face
Will my Mom ever be the same?

I know that her smiles light up a sky
But, I don't see that smile today.
Oh, but I hear each tear fall on her face.
Her blue skies turned to gray.

Oh, I send to her my warmest hug with the rays of the morning sun.
Then, I won't hear a tear fall on her face
For I shall erase them one by one.

Yes, my Mom doesn't know I'm watching her.
But I'm watching her just the same.
And if I hear a tear fall on her face
I'll just softly whisper her name!

A single tear falls as she remembers your memory before she had to say goodbye.

Love lost in a blink of an eye
Your touch just fallen by the way as she lost you that fateful day.

Listen closely and you will hear her pray

My Love

I Will Love You

Today, Tomorrow
and Always.

Dear Mommy,

Mommy did you think of me today?
Mommy did you cry?
Mommy I know that it is hard for you
And can't understand why
Mommy please don't be angry with God
It was time for me to leave
I know that there are questions
And answers you can't believe
But know mommy that I'm okay
And never left your side
Do you hear the things I say?
Can you find the things I hide?
The only thing I cannot take away
Is the pain that your heart feels
So I asked the Lord for just one wish
To help your heart to heal
He told me to think carefully
About what I could say or do
To show how much you mean to me
And how much I miss you too
I thought of all the little things
That used to make us laugh
I thought of all the prayers you have Just to have me back
I knew just what my wish would be
It was there in front of me

In Loving Memory of...

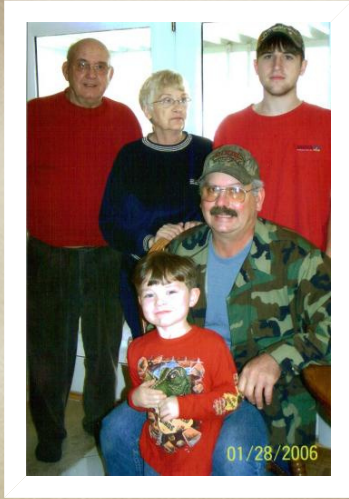

Justin Janes

A beautiful Dove God gave to me
To show me of his love
I whispered to the dove
I told him how to find you
I placed him on a rainbow
So mommy when you think of me
And cannot bare the pain
Look for the gift I sent to you
And allow my memory to remain
I am in every laugh you have
In every hug you share
I am the one who knows your soul
And want you mommy to let go
Take with you the memories
Of the life you made
And remember I never meant to Cause you so much pain
So when you need to feel my touch
Or to know that I'm still there
Find the gift I sent from above
And see in it all my love
When you see a feather on the ground
Know that I am still around.....

The background of the entire image is a textured, mottled olive-green color. In the upper right quadrant, there are two roses. The one on the left is smaller and more tightly curled, while the one on the right is larger and more fully bloomed. Both roses are rendered in a light, almost white color, making them stand out against the darker background. The overall aesthetic is soft and elegant.

How I coped with the death of my daughter

March 26, 2008

Angela this is basicly, the same condolence I sent to Sandy...Matthew's Mom. I felt you are both going through the same thing at the same time. May you always be there for each other as your sons where there for each other.

Dear Angela,

I feel so bad for you and your family. It takes a very long time to begin to think you can ever live a normal life again. I lost my daughter 3 years, 5 months, and 17 days ago. She also died in a tragic car accident and died on impact. She left behind a little boy who turned three years old, three weeks after her death. He was her life and she was his.

I have custody of her son, but believe me it wasn't easy. It took two and a half years to get custody of Jeremy. His father is alive...but it's a long story...let's just say my daughter wasn't with him after her son turned 1 year old. Laws are suppose to protect the innocent, but Mothers and Grandmother's didn't write the laws so you can only imagine the rough ride we had.

When Angie died, I thought I was going to die also. She was my only daughter and I have two sons, one younger than her and one older. Angie was such a big part of my life. She was my friend as much as my daughter. My heart felt there was a long tunnel with a big black hole at the bottom and I was sinking into it but not getting any closer to her. It hurt. Some times I would break down and cry and I really thought that was going to be the end. The pain was unbearable.

After her first year of passing, I thought okay I should be able to do this now. I have been through ever holdiay or family events and I made it, so now I thought it would be a lot easier. Boy I don't want to discourage you but the second year was worse. The first year I went through everything in numbness, but the second I had to do everything in reality.

It was towards the end of the second year that I could honesty say, that I begin to feel normal and able to par take in things in life. Being alone was a comfort to me. Having my husband and grandson with me all the time, sure did help. We went through this together.

Everyone is different, and I think the more love you have for God, the easier it makes it. The site also helped because I felt I was with people who were going through the same thing as me and understood my pain, hurt, and anger. THE WHY's I had so many of them.

I know your son and his friend Matthew has only been gone four months, so I can feel for you and your family. Let it be a comfort that Justin had his friend and Jesus holding each of his hands leading him into the next journey of his life.

I remember reading some sites, as you must and wonder how can some of these families sound so positive and up lifted and I felt like dieing. I could tell that they loved their child as much as I loved mine...but why could they cope. I wrote and expressed myself with them. The answer was "TIME" and how true it is.

Time does help big time. They didn't love their child any less than the day they died...they just learned to cope and accept.

Everything will happen naturally for you just like it has for many of us. Let God be your savior and pray for strength, it helps. Anytime you need someone to chat with you can e-mail me at polopool@yahoo.ca Angie has two sites www.angie-robert.memory-of.com and www.angie-robert.last-memories.com

If you go back to the beginning of Angie's site on the memory-of site and read her condolences you will probably see yourself in my words. We're mother's and this isn't fair. We should have gone before our child. We lived our life much longer than them. But like I said before we didn't write the laws, we only have to live by them. Whether they're God's law or man's law!

Bless you

Donna

I wish I could say magic words to heal your pain but there are none. I also lost my sweet daughter in a car accident, she also was 20. I wish I knew the answers to why some are taken and other are not. My daughter was one of four in the car and the only one wearing a seatbelt. She was the only one who did not survive. No one knows the pain a mother feels when losing a child. I can tell you there are others of us who do understand and it is our pain to bear for the rest of our lives. Please know we will see them all again and they are in heaven with each other. I like to feel she is in a better place than here on earth. It still does not keep us from missing them each and every day, the sound of their voices, the smell of their hair, or the unconditional love you felt when they would hug you. Please take care and know they are strangers who are praying for you.

My Dear Justin,

I was reminded of you everywhere we went in Florida. This picture reminds me of you, but then again, this is of your brother. I have so many pictures of you and Dylan at the beach. All of Indialantic reminds me of you from the Indian River lagoon to the Atlantic. The first time I crossed the Melbourne Causeway, I cried because of your memory being absolutely everywhere. I remember how you always wanted to stop and look for clams or crabs. You and that cast net. I am so thankful I have such good memories of us. I love you Juddy,

Mom ❤️

Mom

Dylan and I have been packing for our trip to Florida. You know this is our 1st time without you. We always had so much fun at the beach. Dylan wants to go back to Disney's Magic Kingdom again. I think he wants to see it again because of us going there together. I hope I can make it without crying every day. I just can not help it. I think I am doing better though. Better at hiding my true feelings. It upsets Dylan when I cry. So, I will try very hard to just think about all the good times we had and celebrate the memories. I miss you so very much. I love you always.

Love,

Mom

Elise guigear

when i was there for the reunion i could not help but think about you and how much more fun it would have been with you there. In the middle of the night when i was by the fire someone decided it was a bright idea to go to the cemetery and you know me i was so scared when we got there my dad threw a bottle and i was almost about to fall over what i'm trying to say is i really would not have been that scared without you there you were the best cousin anyone could have ❤️

Mom

My Justin, The family reunion was a lot of fun, however, it will never be complete for me or the rest of the family without you. It was so sad to not have you in this picture. Your memories are everywhere my Justin. Every time I start the drive up the mountain you are on my mind the entire trip. But, then again, you are on my mind all the time anyway. I just feel so close to you on the mountain.

sandra matthew's mom

i think of you and matthew everyday, the tears are always there, but knowing you and matthew had such a precious life i think of your cabin and how winter was always the time you two liked to go there, how i miss you and matthew's smiles, your laughs, you were my boys i'm still very proud of your and matthew's lives, how precious they were.

Mom

We, (Momaw, Popaw, Dylan and myself ) went raspberry picking today up on the mountain. We all talked to Dylan about how we took you berry picking when you were younger. I also visited your grave this morning early, just like I always do each Saturday. Only this time I cried alot more. I have missed you so much this week. Me & Momaw also checked on your grave stone today, it is almost finished. It has been 7 months since the accident. The pain is just as bad today as it was that day. I love you son, forever and always.

Trina

Justin - Just thinking of you and wanted to send my love. We'll be coming to West Virginia for the 4th of July. We are having a family reunion and you'll be there with us in our hearts and thoughts. I try to remember that you are with God, that "its as should be", but that doesn't help like it should. I don't think I'll ever get over your not being here again. We love you so much.

Mom

My Justin, Everyday I miss you. I am reminded of you no matter where I go. I see T-shirts in stores and think I would buy that for Justin. At the grocery store, I see the items we always bought for you. When driving I see the places we would go. At times, it is so sad, but also comforting. I want to have your memory with me all the time. I always told you, I love you no matter what, forever and always.

Elise G

almost 7 months have passed not a day goes by that i don't see that smiling face or how you would always say my name when i bugged you. i have alot of memories of me and you those are my most treasured.

I LOVE YOU SO MUCH,

Mom

Oh my Justin. I miss you so much. Sometimes I think I am going completely crazy. I just can not believe you are gone. It just seems like a dream, but I know it is real. I know you are happy with the fish. God gave Momaw this message. It has been a big help for her. We all miss you so very much. I can't wait to see you again. Love always, Mom

Mom

Justin, I have so many good memories of you. I still can can believe you are gone. Almost 6 months have passed and it still does not seem real. I look at all of your pictures and have such good memories. I have not been able to look at your videos from infancy to November 2007 yet, it is too painful. I did look at the last video of you and Matt and that go-cart. It was almost more than I could take. I miss you more than words can say. I love you. Mom

Since the weather has changed with sunny days and longer evenings I am constantly reminded of how much fun we had going 4-wheeling together. We have gone riding together since you were 10 years old. I always enjoyed that time we shared even the time you deliberately drove into a grass field and the seeds flew all over me. You laughed and laughed about it. I look up at the mountains from below and am constantly reminded about how we were at the top looking down. I miss you Justin every day, every hour and every minute. Things will never be the same.

Tanya Humphrey

Justin, I only met u once through tanya, but I am glad that I had the pleasure of meeting such a wonderful person. I only wish that I would have got to know you more. We will meet again though, and I look forward to that day to get to know you, and be reunited with all the wonderful people we have lost. Until then thank you for being an angel and watching over the people you and I all care about. God Bless you and your family and friends.

Mom

Justin you were always coming up with crazy things to do and invent. On this particular day you decided to put a tarp in the bed of your truck and fill it with water. Then you and Dylan got in it. You turned your head when I took this picture, but I got your profile anyway. I love you Justin forever and always. I have so many good memories of you.

Mom

I know how much you loved these ads. I found this one in your stored pictures. The glass you bought with the parrot is in the china cabinet with Mamaw's antique dishes. She wants to keep it safe. Everytime I see a tropical picture I always think of you. But, then again, you are on my mind all the time anyway. I miss you so much Justin.

Mom

Justin I remember this day so well. They called me from PMC ER because you were too scared to call. You had cut yourself with a scalpel used to dissect cow eyes. The ER physician had to sew your finger up and you had to take a round of antibiotics. You were a senior at OHHS when this happened. Oh, what good memories I have of you Justin. Thank God I have them.

Mom

I will never forget this day. I had you and Dylan outside taking pictures. You both did not want to do this, but did it just for me. I took this picture as the chair started to break. The look on your face says it all.

elise guigear

I will always remember the time me and you took tires from the pond at the bottom of the mountain and rolled them all the way to the top then rolled them both down and just kept repeating it over and over it was loads of fun.

i will miss you forever and not a day will go by i won't think of you. when we go to that mexican resatraunt that you just absolutely loved and almost every time we had gone to charleston we went there i will think of you.

i wish they still had the pet store me you and sarah used to go to you would take me there and you made me not really that scared to touch the rabbits and kittens but anyway i will always love you jug think of us all day and night.

stay beautiful,

elise

Trina

Justin,

Spring is here, summer is on its way. Summer for me, Sarah and Elise was always our trip to West Virginia and you. There is so much we'll miss without you along with us. It will never be the same, but we've decided we will live and do all that we would with your spirit alongside us.

There will never be a campfire , never a trip to see the caves, never a walk, never an evening (after the we've had enough of the fire) of watching movies until 2:00 am that doesn't evoke a memory of you. My God even a drive to Beckley will bring memories of you (mostly wanting to eat at that Mexican resturant).

You will continue to be a strong presence in our lives. We love you still and have missed you much.

Justin, we will always have your happy attitude, smiling face, and adventurous spirit to remember and draw from as we travel through life.

With Love - Trina

Hey buddy, just sitting here looking at your special memorial site. It's cloudy and raining. Have been thinking about you so much every day! It's almost April and in just a short few months it will be time for our nascar fun in Florida. You will be with me always and forever! I miss our car games. I love you son!

You and Dylan were so ready for hunting on this day. But, I think it was too cold. I got a good picture though. Dylan talks about how you took him squirrel hunting and how much fun he had. He misses you so much. So do I.

Mom

You loved to see Dylan's actions when he "pitched a fit". You begged me to take this picture and you actually looked at the camera so I would take a picture of him. Anytime Dylan would do this you would always laugh.

Mom

You always hated getting your picture taken. You would turn your head, look down or walk off almost every time. I treasure every picture I have of you, even if you are looking away.

Mom

I have always been proud of the young man you turned out to be. You set a wonderful example for Dylan and your peers. I think about you all the time. I look at your pictures at home and in my office constantly. I still can not believe you are gone. Jutter Janes, I will always love you.

Melissa Mills

I was just remembering the day that I met you. I had just started going out with Matt Shifflette and had Matthew Wrenn brought you over. You must have been about 16 or so. I just remember how polite you were and how you greeted me with a smile even though you had probably never even seen me before. You made me feel comfortable and welcome. I still look for you when I am driving into the bottom. You always waved or tipped you head up at me. Always smiling.

Mom

This was a fish you caught with a cast net in Florida in June 2006. You were showing it to Dylan and me. I will always remember this day.

Mom

Justin, I will never forget the last outing we had together up on the mountain. It was so cold, but we did not care. You took me and Dylan to your trap to see if you had caught anything. Nothing was in it. I managed to take a few pictures that day. I will treasure them forever. This is one of them.

Mom

Justin, I have so many memories of you from day 1 on October 29, 1987. I will always treasure the time we spent together. I think about our 4-wheeling trips and beach vacations 🕶️ and everyday life. You made me so happy and I am so proud of the man you became 😊. You would be so proud of the signs and guard rails put up after the accident. No one should ever have to go through what you had to again.

it was a joke that started between me, you, and tiff. and then it juss stuck... i miss you guys but i know that yall are in a better place and thats what helps me get through each and every day.
